Research Group

Community Archaeology

We are a friendly group of active amateur archaeologists working in and around Faversham. The group was founded in 2005 by our director Dr Patricia Reid who provides us professional support and direction.

processing, data input, drawing, research and report writing.

We welcome new members aged over 16. You do not need any knowledge of archaeology and can choose to be a digger or work with finds or a mixture of both. Our skills and activities are many and varied and include surveying, excavating, metal detecting, finds

We ask for a membership donation of £15 to cover materials (students free). You will also need to be a member of the Faversham Society for insurance purposes. There will be a short training session before you start working with us.

For information about past seasons on our website: www.community-archaeology.org.uk or just Google FSARG.

If you are interested contact either:

Nick Wilkinson (nickwilk1@outlook.com, 01795 532755).

John Clarkstone (john.clarkstone@outlook.com, 01795 531805).
